BLOWJOB COP CAGED FOR THREE YEARS

DISGRACE: Adam Rushton was noshed off by vulnerable women while he was on duty

A COP who was sucked off by vulnerable women while on duty has been jailed for three years.

Pc Adam Rushton – who was branded "a disgrace to the police service" on his conviction last month – was sentenced at Birmingham Crown Court for five counts of misconduct.

The 37-year-old, of Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffordshire, was also found guilty of breaching data protection laws while a member of the Staffordshire Police, based in Longton, Stoke-on-Trent.

During his three-week trial, Rushton conceded that some of his actions were "not very professional", but denied any criminal conduct.

The offending spanned four years, from 2008 to 2012, and involved five women.

Judge Murray Creed, sentencing, said: "This case is personal tragedy for you and your family. As a police officer you were in a position of trust with the public."

By ANN COATES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

One incident involved a very vulnerable victim whom he visited in uniform at her home.

Rushton made up the reason for the visit, accusing her over a "bogus cyber bullying issue", and convinced her to show him her private parts under the auspices of his fake investigation.

Garlic

Judge Creed said: "That must have been humiliating – but it didn't emerge until two years later when she was seen by officers in connection with another matter and referred, in passing, to that."

Rushton also met what the judge described as another "vulnerable young lady" through a police incident, eventually entering into a relationship.

He was convicted of conducting a social visit to her home.

Another woman he met through an internet dating site and he was found guilty of receiving oral sex from her during a work-time break.

He was also convicted of going to her home, while in uniform, with the intention of sexual contact.

The judge said: "She believed you wanted sex, but it didn't happen as she found you smelled of garlic."

There was another encounter with a fourth woman while on duty and in uniform, where Rushton received oral sex, later texting her: "You're ace."

Judge Creed said: "The texts were graphic. Plainly, at the time, you were on duty."

During the trial, Rushton was acquitted of five other counts of misconduct in a public office and a single charge of breaching the Data Protection Act.

Kelly is No.1 lesbian after girl-girl snog

KELLY Brook has been voted Britain's No.1 lesbian – even though she's not gay!

The 35-year-old model and actress won an internet poll of lady mingefanciers after her character in the US sitcom One Big Happy "married" a lady played by 24 stunna Elisha Cuthbert, 32.

Kelly's lesboid fandom went into meltdown after her character Prudence leaned in to seal the marriage to Elisha's character Lizzy with a sloppy SNOG.

The quick marriage was all part of Prudence's plan to stop being deported from the U.S. so she can continue dating her real true love, Luke.

In real life Kelly is dating personal trainer Jeremy Parisi.

Kelly is not the first straight lady to top the comfyshoesUK poll.

For the last two years Sacha Parkinson, who played Sian Powers on Corrie, was voted in first place.

Jodie: Fk off, Russ, you rich tosser!

JUICY Jodie Marsh has branded millionaire revolutionary socialist Russell Brand a TOSSER who spouts BULLSHIT!

In a blow to the verbally-incontinent thesaurus fan, tattooed Jodie, 36, said: "I used to love Russell Brand but he's a bit if a tosser now.

"He's telling people not to vote when he's living in a £7million house – and he's worth £50million! I just think, 'Fk off!'

"If you're that bothered mate, give your money away. It's good to care about people less well-off than yourself. But the way he is preaching and slamming people who have any cash while living that lifestyle is bullshit."

But UKIP leader Nigel Farage gets the thumbs up from the 32GG stunna.

She said: "Nigel Farage is a very smart man. I like that he thinks before he speaks – a lot of the other leaders don't."

PRIME Minister David Cameron tries to laugh it off after forgetting that he supports his "beloved" Aston Villa.

Let's be honest – the only claret and blue he likes is the red wine and Stilton cheese after a slap-up meal with the Bullingdon boys.

But he shouldn't forsake Villa now. They're in the FA Cup – which means they're his best chance of winning anything in May.

PRETTY Kelly Klein is an oasis in the desert that is ITV Saturday night telly.

Dads forced to watch Britain's Got Talent by their witless wives get some light relief with Play to the Whistle.

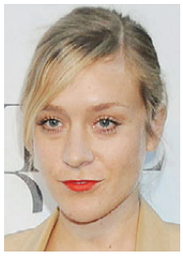
For those who have never seen the show, it's a comedy sports quiz. Yes, a bit like BBC's They Think It's All Over, since you ask.

Team captains Bradley Walsh and Frank Lampard are presided over by tasty Holly Willoughby, who is a delight on her own.

But there's also 23-year-old Kelly, who has a regular slot on the programme.

What ITV viewers may NOT know, is that Kelly is a hugely successful glamour model.

One fan said: "They think it's all over? It is now. All over the TV screen."



Chloe: Being a shagger was great fun

SEXY Chloe Sevigny has opened up about her bonk rampage – a period where she freely admits to being PROMISCUOUS.

The actress, who memorably gave real oral sex to her co-star Vincent Gallo in the 2003 movie The Brown Bunny, said: "I was swinging single with some years I'm not proud of – some promiscuous years.

"Especially after the last relationship, the eight-year one. I was really hurt and I did that thing that you often do, where you blaze through a bunch of…not what you often do, but what some women find themselves doing – which is sleeping around.

"It was fun – I mean I never want to advocate anyone to be promiscuous. But, in a safe way…I mean…not sleeping with every Tom, Dick and Harry, but, like, making out."

The 40-year-old ex model has released a new book of raunchy photos which she says is to "reclaim her image".

A KATIE Hopkins tweet is a lot like Game of Thrones. There are about 140 characters and something unimaginably awful happens.

Bummed by a dog man jailed

AN engineer who allowed himself to be bummed by a DOG has been jailed for 10 months.

Garth Williams, originally from South Africa but who was living in Ballyroney, Co Down, pleaded guilty to 31 offences, including two counts of allowing himself to be penetrated by a living animal on a date unknown between February 1, 2009, and April 4 last year.

In addition Williams pleaded guilty to 10 charges of distributing indecent images, 17 counts of possessing or making indecent images and two further charges of possessing extreme pornography, all of which occurred on various dates between October 10, 2011 and April 4, 2014.

At Newry Crown Court the 43-year-old was also told he must spend two years on supervised licence conditions.

Atlantis Jemima's NAKED DILDO sex romp

IF it's been a good story for 3,000 years, it's good enough for the BBC.

So Beeb bosses are rehashing tales from Ancient Greece and dusting down characters such as Pythagoras – the one who liked triangles – Hercules, Ariadne and Daedalus, for their series Atlantis.

But they may not be aware Jemima Rooper, who plays snakey-headed Medusa, has quite such a raunchy background.

In 2006 she played Lorna Mertz in The Black Dahlia – a movie that involved her having a LESBO ROMP with Mia Kischner.

Jemima also sucked on a fearsome-looking dildo.

Legendary stuff.

Sicko claims he was tragic Keith's secret GAY LOVER

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SICK fantasist has attempted to sully the memory of Keith Harris by claiming to be the late ventriloquist's GAY LOVER.

Britain wept last Tuesday when we learned that much-loved Keith – the man with his hand up puppet duck Orville's arse – had died of cancer, aged just 67.

But, rather than respect, unemployed insurance salesman Garth Smith has shown merely contempt for the late entertainer's memory by making his fanciful allegations.

There has never been ANY kind of suggestion that happily-married Harris ever indulged in homosexualism.

But, fortified by brandy, 57-year-old Smith told Sunday Sport: "It was a secret – a secret from Keith's wife, from his agent, from the TV bosses and from the public.

"Keith and I were gay lovers for more than 30 years."

Warming to his theme, Smith continued with his gut-wrenching fairytale.

Turkey

He said: "One year, in Blackpool for a summer season, Keith wanked me off using Orville's beak. It seemed a bit wrong because it was soon after Orville had been in the hit parade with his single I Wish I Could Fly.

"But in the end I let Keith carry on. We were so full of drink and drugs at the time that it was hard to know right from wrong.

"Once, after snorting a 6ft line of coke, Keith told me I could bum Cuddles the monkey. Wired as I was, I said no to that. I couldn't have millions of kids watching Cuddles on the telly knowing that my dried fetch was up his monkey arse."

But we can reveal that Smith is in fact a LIAR with a long record of ventriloquist dummy-related crime.

In 1987 he tried to sell a turkey to a Buxton game dealer, claiming it was Bernie Clifton's ostrich. And in 1989 he tried to sell a story to the now-defunct News Of The World, claiming he'd been molested by Lord Charles, the drunken puppet of popular ventriloquist Ray Alan.

MONKEY BUSINESS: Smith (above) claims he was offered the chance to BUM Cuddles

Killer plague spread by pitbulls

THERE are calls for so-called devil dogs to be culled worldwide after a pitbull gave four people the PLAGUE.

The US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) found the infection was spread when a pitbull terrier was taken ill and eventually put down by vets in Colorado.

Two vets who treated the animal, his owner and a friend of the owner developed plague.

The killer disease is one of humanity's most terrifying conditions – wiping out a THIRD of the population during the Black Death.

If dog-to-human contagion is confirmed, dog culls could begin within 24 hours in all North American and European countries, according to the CDC.

THE VOICE OF YOUR BRITAIN

Harris 'gay affair' lies are Orville

KEITH Harris was one of Britain's best-loved ventriloquists. His tragic duck Orville and his cheeky monkey Cuddles brought joy to millions during his 1980s heyday.

Despite television's plummet into the gutter since the 1990s, Mr Harris retained a place in our hearts.

His death robbed us of a light entertainment great.

So the fanciful claims of unemployed insurance salesman Garth Smith injure not just Keith's mourning family.

They wound an entire nation.

Smith claims – ludicrously – that he enjoyed a homosexual affair with Keith Harris and that both Orville and Cuddles were involved in their illicit trysts.

Obviously, we do not criticise anyone for indulging in homosexualism.

We do, however, condemn chancer Smith for his vile LIES.

Were Keith Harris alive, he could take Garth Smith to court and seek redress for these outlandish claims.

Keith isn't here anymore but Sunday Sport is ready to stoutly defend his memory against calumnies and slanders from warped individuals.

It is nothing less than our duty as a newspaper of record and a bastion of decency.

"For me, I don't have any urge to write about overt sexuality. It just never occurs to me.

"I appreciate girls who sing about whatever they want, because that's what they want to sing about."

Taylor, who has previously dated One Direction star Harry Styles, 21, is currently linked to Scottish DJ Calvin Harris, 31.

'Violinist strangler on date rape drug'

A RENOWNED violinist, charged with attempted murder for breaking into a tourist's hotel room and strangling her, blamed the incident on a TRANSSEXUAL prostitute.

Stefan Arzberger, 42, pleaded not guilty to attempted murder, assault and strangulation in the Manhattan Supreme Court.

Defence lawyer Richard Levitt said: "He's not a criminal – he's the victim of a crime. Mr Arzberger was poisoned by a date rape type drug."

Hudson Hotel video surveillance shows the lead violinist of the Leipzig String Quartet going to his room with a "woman" at 3:53am.

She then leaves alone with his iPad before Arzberger is seen naked and knocking on guests' doors. When the victim opened hers, he wrapped his hands around her neck.

Arzberger is on bail.

BORIS JOHNSON PIG GOBBLED MY COCK

Horror in farmyard as hungry porker runs amok

SWALLOWED: A cock like the one that Boris ate on farm run by Sam (above)

By SIMON DEAN Farming Correspondent

A FARMER last night told how he watched in horror as a pig with a striking resemblance to randy London Mayor Boris Johnson scoffed his prize cockerel.

Sam Pettigrew rears pigs, chickens and cattle on the 100 acres he farms near Middlewich, Cheshire.

His beasts lived together in harmony – as the Good Lord intended – until last Tuesday when quarter-ton boar Boris turned on the strutting cock.

Sam, 64, said: "In more than 50 years working with beasts, I've never seen the like.

"I were taking Boris his swill – he gets nowty wi'out his grub – as normal.

"Cock was strutting about, waiting for any leftovers. I threw in the feed, Boris goes for it, then cock starts pecking about and…whoosh!

Victims

"Boris swallowed cock in one gulp!

"Poor bird had no idea what had hit it. There were just a couple of feathers left.

"I grabbed a nearby piece of four-by-two and twatted pig until he knew he'd done wrong.

"You can't let beasts get the upper hand. Not on my farm."

It's believed to be the only recorded incident of a pig eating a live bird on an English farm – though swine are known to have varied diets, from swill to the victims of gangsters.

Dr Norris Kelner, animal behaviourist at the University of West Lancashire, said: "I don't think there is any cause for alarm, not just yet."

The real Boris Johnson – who is standing in the safe Tory seat of Uxbridge and South Ruislip – has never been known to eat live poultry, though he is widely reputed to have a healthy sexual appetite.

But even woman-of-the-world Myleene would have been shocked by the crude suggestion posted on Twitter soon after.

The user, identified as Rob Simple, tweeted: "I would let Myleene Klass do abominable things to me in the bedroom. Maybe even butt stuff. In my butt."

A pal of the singer said: "Oh my goodness! That's a bit rum."

Myleene's "gobshite" outburst caused a storm online last week.

Noel: Ed is a fking communist

MIDDLE-AGED rocker Noel Gallagher has dismissed Labour leader Ed Miliband as a "fking communist".

The former Oasis guitarist said he would not be voting in this week's General Election, and also criticised prime minister David Cameron for his stance on the original leaders' debate proposals.

Noel appeared on Channel 4's Alan Carr Chatty Man and said: "I'm not sure I can get behind any of them at the minute.

"The fact Cameron didn't turn up for the debate is a disgrace. I think that Miliband, if he gets in, is just going to fail us."

Carr replied: "Give him a bloody chance. Look at his little face, how can you say that?"

Gallagher replied: "Because he is a fking communist."

He then insulted Scottish National Party leader Nicola Sturgeon and said: "The other unpleasant little woman from over the border. Cheap shoes.

"And then there's the Greens – whatever. And the other mob..."

FEELING FRUITY: Donna Tickel got to rub shoulders with celebrity bird-botherer Bill Oddie at London's Great Gorilla Run in 2007

IN the early to mid-Noughties there were few Sport babes as hard working as tasty Donna Tickel.

Often in partnership with Wakefield's Hannah Claydon, Donna was one of the lucky glamour babes who got to go out on our world-famous workplace visits.

Donna and Hannah's day out with the British Army at their Aldershot barracks was an extra special treat to our brave boys.

Donna, from Sevenoaks, Kent, even got the chance to rub shoulders with a few A-list celebs on some Sport jobs.

One of those came back in 2007, when Donna took part in the annual Great Gorilla Run in London.

She and Hannah were on hand to give out free bananas to around 500 people in gorilla outfits before they began their run – which was to raise funds for the threatened apes.

And that's when the star-struck pair ran into celebrity birdspotter and former funnyman BILL ODDIE.

Donna, 34C-24-32, said: "I had a really great day out – and it was made even better by meeting Bill!

"He's a top man."

BURGER KING FLASH 1

Burger King perv flashes whopper at teenage girl

POLICE are hunting a man who flashed at a 16-year-old girl in a Burger King restaurant in west London.

It happened at 6.30pm on April 15 when the victim went to use the toilet at the eaterie in Praed Street.

A man followed her into the toilets and as she came out of the cubicle he put his foot in front of the exit to stop her from leaving.

He then exposed himself to the teen and made sexually indecent gestures.

The suspect is described as white, aged between 30 and 35, of stocky build, around 5ft 11in tall, with short black hair and facial stubble.

He is believed to be of eastern European origin.

Detective Constable David Roberts, from Westminster's Major Crimes Unit, said: "This type of crime is very upsetting to the victim.

"I am keen for anyone with information to come forward."

BURGER KING FLASH 2

A WOMAN was told she couldn't enter Burger King diner – because she was stark bollock NAKED!

Staff at the eaterie in Barbourville, Kentucky, spotted 26-year-old Kayla Nunn prowling around outside in the altogether.

Employee Brandon Marsee said: "Our manager went to the door and he's like, 'Ma'am, where's your clothes at?'

"And she goes, 'I have hair and tattoos on'."

After the woman was told she couldn't come in, workers say she began harassing other customers outside.

Mr Marsee added: "She bummed a cigarette from one of them and one man rolled his windows up and locked his doors."

Staff eventually called cops and Nunn was nicked.

She pleaded guilty to indecent exposure as well as disorderly conduct and was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

THE BOOBS OF DEATH

Gorgeous body that lured gambler to his doom

FACES OF EVIL: Chandler, Granger and Jackson conspired to rob and kill professional gambler Mehmet Hassan

THESE are the stunning breasts that lured a professional gambler to his DEATH.

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

They belong to 25-year-old Leonie Granger, who targeted Mehmet Hassan, 56, in March last year after meeting him in a Mayfair casino.

Mr Hassan was later kicked to death and robbed of his winnings by Granger's two accomplices.

Last week she began a 16-year prison sentence after being was found guilty at the Old Bailey of Mr Hassan's manslaughter.

Granger and co-defendants Kyrron Jackson, 28, and 29-year-old Nicholas Chandler – who were convicted of murder – were sentenced by Judge William Kennedy at the Old Bailey. Jackson and Chandler were jailed for life with a minimum term of 36 years.

Sentencing, Judge Kennedy described the attack as "pitiless and wicked", adding: "It was quite simply an act of brutality which defies reason and compassion."

Their trial had heard how Mr Hassan was oblivious to the sting as he wined and dined the woman he knew as Rachel, even bragging to his friends that he was not paying her to be with him.

After their first date, Granger, of Gillingham, Kent, was overheard by a taxi driver reporting back that Hassan was "flashy".

Ransacked

On the night of the murder, Mr Hassan had taken Granger to top Mayfair restaurant Nobu before going on to the Palm Beach Casino nearby, where he gave her £1,000 in cash with which to gamble.

Dressed in a strapless top, tight-fitting black trousers, high heels and a large gold necklace, Granger was spotted by a poker supervisor kissing Mr Hassan "passionately" and was told to "get a room".

Later, he took her back to his Islington flat where she made her excuses and left in a taxi – but not before letting in boyfriend Jackson and his friend Chandler, who were waiting outside.

Using parcel tape, the pair tied up Mr Hassan in his bedroom then kicked him to death and ransacked his home as they searched for his cash.

While Mr Hassan's beaten and bloody body lay undiscovered, the killers were filmed on Granger's mobile phone throwing around wads of £50 notes.

All the defendants were convicted of robbing Mr Hassan and conspiracy to falsely imprison him.

Shotgun

Jackson, of Lewisham, south east London, and Chandler, of Lee, south east London, were further found guilty of two counts of plotting to rob casino staff, two counts of conspiracy to have a shotgun and imitation firearm in January last year, and two counts of conspiracy to falsely imprison.

Last night a case insider said: "If a pair of breasts are going to lure you to your death, it's a pair like this.

"She'll be popular in prison, if you know what I mean."

SEXY BEXIE LOVES
BEACH BONKING!

By ANN COATES news@sundaysport.co.uk

PERT Bexie Williams has a saucy sex secret – she LOVES bonking outdoors!

And the self-confessed nympho says sex in public is BETTER than in the bedroom.

And Bexie, 21, from Brighton, reckons that her best EVER sexual experience happened at the beach on holiday.

The busty 32DD beauty said: "Having sex in bed is not always special. I'd always rather have sex outside – it's exciting!

"I once fked my boyfriend on the beach. It was a busy day and there were loads of people around.

"We ended up sneaking off into some sand dunes nearby. It was so wild thinking somebody could catch us in the act!"

Sunday Sport EXCLUSIVE

May to play Hammond's GAY DAD in new sitcom

TELLY chiefs want James May to play Richard Hammond's GAY DAD in a new BBC sitcom, insiders have revealed.

By BARNEY SAMUELS news@sundaysport.co.uk

Sunday Sport has learned that a team of writers are working on a show where Hammond plays a son whose "staid and dull" father suffers a catastrophic mid-life crisis and becomes a flamboyant homosexual.

An insider said: "It's got the working title My Gay Dad and everyone's very excited. Not only will it be very funny, it will also tick a few diversity boxes at the Beeb."

It will be Hammond and May's first foray into acting, and sources say youthful Hammond could easily pass as May's son, even though he's only seven years younger than his colleague.

The two presenters left Top Gear following the sacking of co-host Jeremy Clarkson.

But station bosses insist they haven't left the Beeb permanently.

BBC2 controller Kim Shillinglaw told Radio 4: "Conversations are ongoing with James and Richard about a variety of projects, but they will remain private."

W*nk-drive suspect has pant stains

COPS have arrested a 33-year-old man for WANK-DRIVING.

Officers pulled over Angel Cardenas Franco after reports that he was driving his Nissan Maxima erratically.

Another witness reported that Franco was masturbating as he followed a group of women in San Angelo, Texas.

When cops caught up with the unemployed roofer, he had stopped masturbating but there was what was described as "ejaculatory residue" on his trousers.

Franco was charged with indecent exposure and driving without due care and attention.

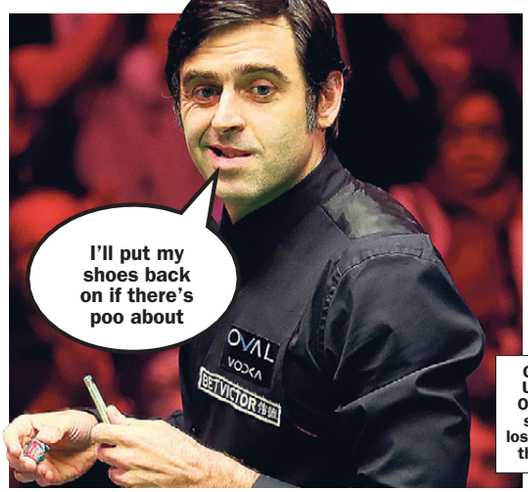
HORROR AT SAME SEX SNOOKER FINAL

SNOOKER LESBO SHAT IN CORNER POCKET

BROWNED OFF: Former lesbian world champion Alison Green's poor form led to her dirty protest



CRACKING UP: Ronnie O'Sullivan is starting to lose his cool at the Crucible

A FORMER lesbian snooker world champion saw RED when she was knocked out of this year's tournament – and potted a BROWN in the corner pocket.

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Sturdy Alison Green, a stalwart of the lesbian snooker scene for the past 11 years, went out in the first round at the Manchester event after a run of abysmal form.

But, rather than taking the defeat gracefully, former schoolgirl shotputter Green, 28, pulled down her pants, hoisted herself onto the table and SHAT in the corner pocket.

Coverage of the event, which was being streamed on a leading lesbian sports channel, was hastily suspended and Green was led away by stewards.

One witness said: "It was clear Alison was nowhere near the top of her game – but to express your disgust in such a revolting manner suggests that all is not well in her mind. She needs to sort herself out."

Last night a spokeslesbian for Green said the former lesbo world No.1 was "sorry for any upset caused".

Meanwhile, reigning men's world champion Ronnie O'Sullivan was knocked out of the tournament last week at the Crucible.

The 39-year-old at one point played in his socks, almost snapped a cue, made an obscene gesture and placed his chalk on the table.

A snooker insider said: "I don't think there's any danger of Ronnie shitting in a pocket, no matter how bad it gets. That must be a lesbian thing."

FLASHER 'WORE AN INVISIBILITY CLOAK'

Harry Potter fan thought nobody could see him

A SEX pervert who masturbated in a public park claimed nobody could see him – because he was actually wearing a Harry Potter-style "invisibility cloak".

Deluded drunkard Kelvin Watson caused outrage as he sat hunched over a copy of Fiesta magazine, furiously tugging at his manhood.

The 24-year-old told police officers in Prestatyn, north Wales: "It's OK, it's OK, nobody can see me – I've got the invisibility cloak on."

In fact, self-confessed Harry Potter nut Watson was shrouded only in a sheet of polythene which cops discovered had been stolen from a nearby allotment.

Magistrates heard that unemployed Watson "became confused while in drink – which is often."

Watson pleaded guilty to indecent exposure and outraging public decency.

He was handed a three-month jail sentence, suspended for two years.

Archers' stars in real on-air studio bed romps shock!

PRODUCERS keep a fully-functioning bed in the studio where Radio 4 drama The Archers is recorded – to make its SEX scenes more realistic.

Broadcasting bosses have faced criticism from listeners who have complained the storylines, set in the fictional village of Ambridge, are often too raunchy.

Speaking at a recent Afternoon Tea with the Archers event at the Chipping Norton Book Festival, scriptwriter Keri Davies said that having a divan to hand was essential for post-coital conversations to sound believable.

He explained: "Sex is even harder, as it were. We do have a bed in the studio – because your voice sounds different when you are lying down.

"There will be a sound engineer in a Led Zeppelin T-shirt rattling the duvet!"

Mr Davies also revealed that parties in Ambridge are limited to nine attendees because of budgetary considerations.

He added: "We can only have 39 actor bookings in a week – which is roughly six or seven in an episode."

PINDER SURP

By ANN COATES news@sundaysport.co.uk

TOP-HEAVY glamour girl Lucy Pinder says it's really hard to "hide" her MASSIVE boobs.

But she's not bothering to disguise her ample charms here – as the busty brunette whips off her bikini top during a sizzling beach break.

The 30-year-old recently moaned: "It's hard to cover up big boobs when you go out.

"You can't actually hide them very well – especially in the summer."

Luckily for us, Lucy is absolutely crap at it, too, giving lucky sunseekers in Majorca a lingering peek at her 32G assets.

Lucy, though, says it's only natural to stare at her drool-inducing top rack.

The former Celeb Big Brother beauty conceded: "If I see a woman with really big boobs somewhere, I'm going to look.

"It's only natural.

"I've seen loads of lads walk straight into lamp-posts when I've been out shopping.

"It's hilarious!"

HIPPY CRACK FARTER BURNS DOWN HOUSE

THE hippy crack epidemic claimed another unfortunate victim last week when a man blew his ARSE off and burned down his HOUSE.

By SIMON DEAN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Oddball Barney Little, 32, decided to experiment with the killer death gas – also known as nitrous oxide – and squirted a balloonful up his acne-ridden arse.

Thrillseekers often ingest drugs or alcohol through their arses, as the very thin lining of the rectal cavity helps to absorb the substance more quickly and therefore leads to a better "high".

Theoretically, that's what should have happened with Little when he introduced the gas into his anus at his home in Wigan, Lancashire. But he failed to realise that, when combined with the natural methane inside his bowel, nitrous oxide becomes EXPLOSIVE.

A hospital source revealed: "Essentially, Mr Little turned his rectum into a bomb. He's lucky to be alive at all.

"Well, I say lucky. He'll be shitting in a bag for the rest of his life – and if he ever gets his hearing back I'd be amazed.

"As for his house, the flashback from the explosion started a fire and the whole building was burned to a shell.

"This is a warning to everyone – do not put potentially explosive gases up your arse."

NO LAUGHING MATTER: Barney Little was left with no house – and a tattered arsehole

OAP chins grizzly to save dog!

A PLUCKY pensioner punched a BEAR in the face when it tried to attack his dog.

Carl Moore, 73, said he heard his pet pooch Lucy whimpering in the back yard of his house in Sacramento, California.

And when he went to investigate he saw a huge grizzly – and tried to frighten it off.

When that didn't work, the quick-thinking OAP punched the giant beast in the face!

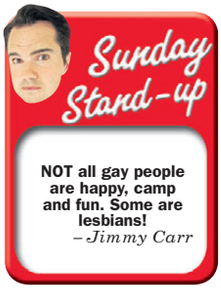
He said: "I ain't run from nothing – I have never in my whole life – and I ain't going to start now.

"The man or beast that I run from ain't been born, and his momma's already dead.

"He come up like this, and turned, boom, I hit him hard. I damn corkscrewed his head."

A spokesman for the Sacramento Wildlife Protectional Commission said: "Even if you are Mike Tyson you won't win in a fight with a bear.

"Mr Moore is a very lucky man."



Arsonist nicked tugging in park

A MAN who skipped bail on an arson charge was caught by police – sitting on a bench and masturbating furiously.

Rather than keeping a low profile, 45-year-old Donald Williams bought himself a porn mag and went off for a tug.

Cops at Palisades Park, Los Angeles, called to the scene found that a warrant had been issued for his arrest after he failed to turn up in court on a fire-raising charge.

An official report says: "Upon arrival, officers saw a subject, later identified as Donald Williams, sitting on a bench in the park. They saw Williams holding a pornographic magazine with one hand while holding his exposed penis with the other."

Williams is now on remand on charges of indecent exposure, public nudity and the outstanding warrant for arson.

COMING A CROPPER: Melanie strips for C4 series (above) and (below) as Roy's new love interest Cathy ROY Cropper's new love interest in Coronation Street has a secret almost as shocking as Hayley's COCK!

For Melanie Hill – who plays allotment holder Cathy Matthews – once appeared NAKED in a raunchy sex scene with a much younger man.

Cafe owner Roy, played by David Neilson, 65, in the long-running ITV soap, looks set to find true love again after meeting newcomer Cathy.

Melanie, 53, played a much steamier role in the 2007 Chanel Four series Meadowlands about a family who are placed in witness protection but who are moved to a slightly-sinister suburban paradise.

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

AN actor who has regularly appeared as an extra on Coronation Street put MIDGET GEMS into a tiny hooker's BUM – then hooked them out with his "amazing" tongue.

Petite courtesan and part-time porn actress Emma "Titchy" Stryder claims Barry Harrop performed the kinky act at her studio flat in Salford, just over a mile from the Corrie set.

Emma, 24, who stands just under 4ft tall in her stockinged feet, said: "As soon as he arrived, I thought, 'I know you'.

"After he gave me his £100, we got talking and I twigged – I'd seen him in the background in Coronation Street.

"Barry was a proper gent and he was very polite when he brought up the Midget Gems business.

"I thought he was taking the piss – but any reservations I had evaporated when he got that amazing tongue of his up my nipsy. Oooh!

"When he was done he made a sound like a blocked bog and then ejaculated all over my tiny feet. The dirty git!"

When confronted last night, Barry – who has also been in Holby City and Doctors – said: "This is a private matter."

Nursing home plagued by serial tosser

COPS are hunting a man who exposed his genitals and wanked in front of a window of a retirement home.

A female night shift worker reported seeing a man standing outside a window of the nursing home.

He then exposed his genitals and started masturbating. When the employee picked up a phone to call police, the suspect ran away.

Last November, a similar incident happened at the same home in Carman in the Canadian province of Manitoba.

Around midnight, another female employee noticed a man outside the window who also flashed and started tossing himself off.

The suspect is described as a tall, thin white male.

Showing the Mounties have a sense of humour, a police spokesman said: "This is a serious incident. One old dear had a stroke – while another couldn't reach."

Pitchfork arse stab drunkard

DRUNKARD Antonio Nunez was nicked after stabbing his girlfriend in the arse – with a PITCHFORK!

Cops were called to a disturbance and found what they described as "a scene of devastation".

They discovered that Nunez had attacked his unnamed partner and used the farm tool to jab her in the backside.

And in retaliation, she had pepper-sprayed her 59-year-old attacker.

The girlfriend was rushed to University Hospital in San Antonio, Texas, with non-life threatening injuries.

Nunez was not seriously injured, but is now facing aggravated assault charges.

Fantasy series babe is hardcore porn star

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

AN actress who plays a key new character in TV's Game of Thrones is a taboo-breaking hardcore PORN star.

In last Monday night's episode, sexy Samantha McEwen, 27, was seen seducing dwarf Tyrion Lannister, aka actor Peter Dinklage, in a whore house.

But what fans might not know is that Samantha is also 32DD bongo regular Sam Bentley, who has starred in a string of double penetration, BUKAKKE and GANGBANG scenes!

The brunette, from Wimbledon, south London – whose acting credits include Anal Debauchery 3, Fingers Tongues and Bums, and UK Nympho Nurses – is set to feature throughout series five of the popular fantasy TV show.

She said: "Game of Thrones is a career highlight. It's opened a door for me to do other things."

Drunk who flashed women in flat jailed

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SEX pest who tricked two young women into letting him into their block of flats before exposing himself has been jailed for six months.

Mizanur Rahman, 23, followed the women to their front door of their building in Bethnal Green, east London, and asked to be let in.

Assuming he had forgotten his key, the pair did so but became alarmed when he followed them to their front door.

He asked if he could use their toilet, but they refused, saying he could go and urinate on the green opposite the building.

They then noticed he was holding his erect penis in his hand and was trying to pull his tracksuit bottoms down further.

Richard Scott, prosecuting, told Snaresbrook Crown Court: "They told him to put it away. The two women went into their flat but he didn't leave.

"He started to bang on the door and the two girls put their backs to the door to make sure he couldn't get in – he then opened the letter box.

Peering

"One of the girls screamed, ran upstairs inside the flat and alerted her two other flatmates who called the police."

Rahman then followed another resident and went upstairs to her flat, asking her if she was alone.

She confronted him and told him to stop following her, but he hung around outside her flat, peering through her windows until she called the police.

Rahman, who had been drinking heavily, was arrested outside.

He has previous convictions for sexual assault in 2010 and harassment in 2009.

He pleaded guilty to two counts of exposure and one count of harassment at Thames Magistrates' Court on April 10.

At the time of the offence he was subject to a sexual offences prevention order barring him from approaching any women in the street or other public place.

Rahman, of Whitechapel, east London, was also ordered to sign the Sex Offenders' Register for five years.

DEANO ON SUNDAY

SIX police officers were sent to arrest 71-year-old John Wellard after accusations of harassment against Faversham Town Council.

I don't know about you, but just about every word of that sentence makes me want to throw stones at something official.

Thankfully Kent Police explained the situation.

Police spokesman Glenn Pearson said: "Officers from Kent Police have been investigating reports of collective harassment relating to members of Faversham Town Council.

"It was alleged they had received brown envelopes with fake money and other cards sent to their addresses.

"As a result of those enquiries, officers attended an address on Friday, April 24, to speak with a man in connection with the incident and carry out searches of the property if permitted.

"A 71-year-old man attended a police station voluntarily and was interviewed under caution. The investigation is ongoing."

Brown envelopes with fake money, eh?

Must have been fking terrifying for those poor councillors.

Bloody Women will never stop their griping

NOW that they've won their "battle" and got The Sun newspaper to drop Page Three, do you think Bloody Women are happy?

Of course they're fking not.

Bloody Women are never happy unless they're griping their hate-twisted guts out.

Their latest target is a wholly inoffensive poster (above) which has appeared on the London Underground.

Now, I've been on the London Underground. I was too terrified of being pushed onto the live rail by the throngs of self-obsessed, foamy-mouthed Londoners to notice any posters, but that's by the by.

Protein

This poster promotes a product, made by a company called Protein World, which apparently makes women thin. (I have my own protein product which I'm happy to donate to any dieting women but there have been few takers so far).

Anyhow, Bloody Women believe that the picture of the bikini-wearing lady in the advert is offensive.

Apparently, it's something called "body shaming".

No. Me neither.

The posters have been defaced by serious-faced young ladies called Abigail and Emily – to the delight of Protein World who have seen acres of free publicity and a surge in sales of their product.

Bloody Women have gone from demanding a ban on pictures of tits to demanding a ban on pictures of bikinis.

What next? Ankles?

Bloody Women have more in common with the lads from the Taliban than they would be prepared to admit.

Maybe that's why they grow their bushy feminist minges to look like a mujahedeen's beard.

Governing Marxists bully our toddlers

IN the 1945 General Election campaign, which he went on to lose by a landslide, Winston Churchill warned that a Labour government in Britain would employ a secret police to force their will on the country.

Churchill used the expression "Gestapo" – an ill-advised word at the end of World War 2.

But, as so often proved to be the case, Churchill was right.

We may not have an officially socialist government at the moment but the people who run our country are out and out cultural Marxists.

They use every trick in the book – short of the rubber truncheons (yet) – to impose their world view on everyone else.

Look at the case of Selina Sharpe, headmistress of Turnham Primary School in south-east London.

Ms Sharpe asked children as young as three to sign a 'Home-School Agreement' contract pledging not to use racist, homophobic or 'transphobic' language.

That's right. Three.

Now, I'm 42 with a degree in politics, and I can't keep up with what's deemed "racist, homophobic or transphobic language" – it changes by the hour.

I'm pretty sure that a couple of years ago 'transphobic' wasn't a thing, let alone a cause of offence.

But tots barely out of nappies are being asked to sign a contract demanding they toe the PC line.

Any political creed that orders toddlers around is just a few steps away from ordering people onto cattle trucks.

MEET MR BELLEND HEAD!

SUNDAY Sport EXCLUSIVE

IT'S a good job that laugh-a-minute Nigel Keele has a decent sense of humour – because a tumble in the street has left him with a head that looks just like a BELLEND!

Baldy Nige, 54, slipped on a wet biscuit after necking a "couple of ciders too many" during a daytime drinking session in Sale, Cheshire.

The resulting fall onto the corner of a concrete wall left him with an eight-inch GASH on the crown of his head.

That, along with the slightly unusual shape of his head, has left unlucky Nigel with a bonce that is the spitting image of a glans penis – the scientific name for a bellend.

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

Minge

Unemployed Nigel beamed: "I'm the talk of south Manchester. Everyone from Chorlton to Altrincham knows me as 'Nige the Dickhead' or 'Mr Bellend Head'. I've not had to put my hand in my pocket for a drink for a week.

"Loads of people have been coming up to me for selfies.

"I've also got loads of minge out of it. It's not surprising, really – I'm now a 5ft 10in walking hardon!"

Nigel is confident that in time the "chap's eye" scar will fade, but added: "Unfortunately it is permanent – I'll always be Mr Bellend Head."

OUT OF THIS WORLD: The incredible photo that is surely proof of an ancient civilisation on Mercury

Space probe finds cock 'n balls on Mercury

By BRAD CHADWICK news@sundaysport.co.uk

A NASA probe that last week crashed into Mercury photographed a 500-mile wide COCK 'N BALLS on the planet's surface.

The bizarre formation was snapped by the Messenger probe, which has been orbiting the planet for the past four years.

One of Messenger's key findings, in 2012, was a thick coat of ice in perma-shadowed craters at Mercury's polar regions.

Last week Messenger ran out of fuel and crashed into the planet's surface.

Panic

But before the end came, Messenger managed to send this photo to NASA.

A NASA source told Sunday Sport: "This is clear evidence of a civilisation on Mercury in ancient times – one with a sense of humour, it seems.

"Obviously this will be hushed up or there would be mass panic."

By BRAD CHADWICK news@sundaysport.co.uk

LONELY Taliban fighters hiding in the Hindu Kush are getting their kicks by taking turns SHAGGING COWS, international observers have reported.

The hate-filled fundamentalists – who ruled Afghanistan until booted out by the Americans after the 2001 invasion – are holed up in the far north-east of their benighted land.

But, between dodging US drone strikes and plotting their re-conquest of Afghanistan once allied forces pull out, the Taliban GANG-BANG innocent bovines.

Respected website Popbitch reported: "What we really can't figure out is what their colleagues in the far north-east province of Afghanistan might have been trying to achieve.

"An intelligence service report described a gang rape in that region. Of cows."

Fearful of provoking the notoriously touchy Afghans, the Foreign Office last night refused to confirm the Taliban's liking for sexy heifers.

A source said: "This is a matter for the Afghan government. Cow sex you say? Goodness..."

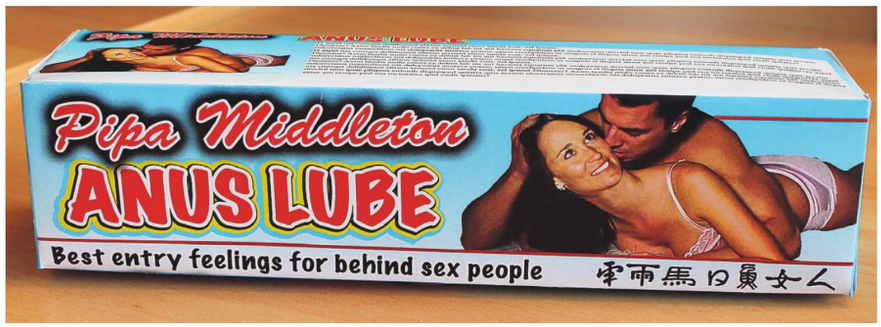
FURY OVER PIPPA MIDDLETON ANAL LUBE!



Chinese makers use almost-Royal beauty's image without permission

THE Royal family was left "shocked and deeply saddened" after Pippa Middleton's image was used without permission on a tube of foreign ANAL LUBE.

A Beijing-based company has been making a low-price lubricant supposedly endorsed by the Duchess of Cambridge's younger sister.

The fraudulent product was discovered by Sunday Sport reporters during an investigation into the sex industry in the Chinese capital.

The box displays a FAKED photo of the 31-year-old socialite, with her face superimposed onto a soft-core pornographic image. And her name has been crudely misspelled "Pipa".

By TOM RHODES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

In poorly-translated English, it reads "Anus lube: Best entry feelings for behind sex people".

When our reporter called the fraudsters' HQ in the Chaoyang District last week, a voice was heard shouting: "No! No! Put phone down! Back to work!"

Last night, a Buckingham Palace spokesperson was not available for comment.

But sources close to the Middleton family have confirmed they are "devastated" that Pippa's image was exploited by Far East pervs.

They revealed: "We are all shocked and deeply saddened to discover that an image of the Duchess's sister is being used in this despicable way.

"This is a truly disgusting act and we will be seeking criminal damages from the company.

"Furthermore, it's worth mentioning that there is absolutely nothing about Pippa's physical appearance that would make people think of anal sex."

Sunday Sport has passed on a dossier of our investigation to Trading Standards.

WHAT IS 'ANAL LUBE'?

IN Ancient Greek times, high-ranking libertines discovered the untold pleasures of backdoor action.

For many, it was an accepted bonding practice between heterosexual men.

It was even customary to hold anal sex parties following a successful business deal.

Today, some couples choose to explore the "hidden door" as an alternative to more traditional forms of sex.

And entrepreneurial folk formulated a slippery, silicone-based lubricant to facilitate the lovemaking process.

There are a wide variety of anal lubes, however many people prefer a more "natural" approach – including glamour model Katie Price, who said: "You just spit and slip it in, don't you?"

Posh uni students' w*nk porn 'art event'

ONE of America's top unis hosted a graphic event with genitalia and MASTURBATION as part of its annual gender conference.

"Finger Painting: An Arts-Based Investigation of Masturbation" was intended to discuss the relationship between masturbation and gender at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

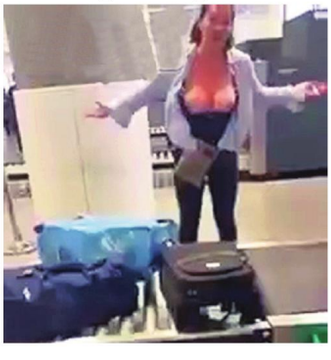
Prospective attendees were informed the workshop "will include media content depicting genitalia and/or the act of masturbation or coming to orgasm."

The audience was also restricted to a maximum of 20 people.

Cavanaugh Quick, presenter of the event, said: "Masturbation and self-pleasure allow people to examine their gender identities in ways that they cannot access when partners are involved."

An insider said: "They talk a load of shit but at least you get to see some birds fingering their minges."

Did you pack these fun-bags yourself?



CUSTOMS officers copped an eyeful – and an ear bashing – when a woman flashed her BOOBS in protest at having her luggage searched.

Emotional Camilla Azevedo, 30 (left), had just landed at El Dorado Airport, in the Colombian capital of Bogota after a long distance flight from Europe.

But she lost the plot after having to open her cases – which were also x-rayed.

She stormed: "I see, do you want to see my tits, don't you daddy? What else do you want me to show you? What else do you want? Should I remove it? Like this? What else? Do you want to film it, daddy? What else do you want?".

Stunned officials then ushered her into a private room so she could calm down.

Azevedo could have been arrested and fined but officials decided in the end to let her go with just a verbal warning.

A spokesman for the airport said: "Unfortunately this type of behaviour is quite common and our officers are trained to act with diplomacy.

"After long international flights some passengers get quite stressed and this can influence their behaviour when they get to the terminal.

"In this particualr case, we let the woman go with just a warning."

DEAD SHOCKED: Phil Ashton feared for his life when he saw the crossbow-wielding maniac

PROPER MENTAL: The crazed Walking Dead fan was snapped on a camera phone

Crossbow horror in Epping Forest

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

YOU'LL be scared STIFF of this Walking Dead fan – because she's been stalking hikers while completely NAKED!

The unidentified red-head was spotted lurking in bushes in Epping Forest, north London, last week and was captured in this mobile phone image.

And it wasn't just her nipples that were pointing dangerously – so was her CROSSBOW.

Our petrified eye-witness, Phil Ashton, 36, had been scoffing a butty next to his mountain bike when the mystery lady jumped out. He told us: "She was mumbling something about 'fking zombies' and then shouted, 'Rick, over here, I got walkers!'

"I looked around and there was no-one else there – it was just her and me.

"I can only assume she was talking about Rick Grimes, the character played by Andrew Lincoln in The Walking Dead series.

"And she was dressed exactly like Daryl, the redneck bloke from the same programme. Except she was naked.

"Without warning, she let out a spine-chilling growl and then ran off, her buttocks bouncing hypnotically."

Cavernous

Shell-shocked Phil, a windsurfing instructor from nearby South Woodford, says the experience has left him suffering nightmares.

He shuddered: "I don't know what was scarier, having a loaded crossbow pointed at me or witnessing the most cavernous camel toe I've ever seen in my life.

"This woman needs finding, and probably detaining indefinitely in a psychiatric institution."

SCARY SIGHT: But Daryl has got nothing on the real thing

'School bus kid catcher' man is held

A MAN who stole a school bus and tried to pick up kids has been locked up.

Patrick Fredrickson, 30, quit his job as a landscaper following complaints about "unusual behaviour".

He then stole a car parked outside a funeral home and drove to Cleveland, Ohio, where he started asking locals about a young girl living there, police claim.

The Utah resident then left the area and stole the school bus.

He found a list of local kids' names and addresses and then started driving round the neighbourhood to find them.

One concerned parent told police that he did not allow his daughter to go on an empty bus with a stranger.

Others claimed that Fredrickson "had a cigarette in his ear" and was driving the vehicle very slowly.

After complaints to police, he was arrested and taken to Emery County Jail, where he now faces charges of stealing a car and attempting to kidnap children.

SWEET REVENGE

A POSSE of angry locals hunted down and hacked to death a pervert who was seen bumming a GOAT in a sugar plantation in Kakamega, Kenya.

KATIE ELLABY
AGE: 19
FROM: Rotherham
STUDYING: English literature
UNIVERSITY: University of Leeds
FAVE FOOD: Egg fried rice
FAVE DRINK: Gin and tonic
FAVE FILM: Silence Of The Lambs
FAVE ACTOR: Tom Hardy

JEMMA FRANKS
AGE: 20
FROM: Lincoln
STUDYING: Midwifery
UNIVERSITY: University of Leeds
FAVE FOOD: Barbecue ribs
FAVE DRINK: Caipirinha
FAVE FILM: The Wedding Singer
FAVE ACTOR: Adam Sandler

FIRST TIME
KATIE: Mine was with a lad I was going out with at the time and I can't really remember that much about it. It was just very quick.
JEMMA: That's probably why you don't remember much about it.
KATIE: It was all right, just too fast. I've had much better since.
JEMMA: Mine was with my fella at the time, too. I was with him for three years. It was at his house and it was planned. I remember it being awkward as he was older than me and had more experience.
KATIE: Was it good?
JEMMA: I can't really remember. I was too tense because it was so nerve-wracking.

BEST SEX
KATIE: It was with my ex-boyfriend and it was in a hotel room. We did it in all sorts of different positions and he hit all the right spots.
JEMMA: Mine was with my current boyfriend. We were at a work party at a hotel. It was a little dull so we left the function room and found a little room. It wasn't a bedroom, it was like a small store room.
The sex was rushed and a bit frantic, but it was the best I've had at the same time. Knowing someone could catch us gave me a real buzz.
KATIE: Rushed sex can be good in the right circumstances. It must be something about having sex in hotels which makes it better.

WILLY SIZE
KATIE: If you go with someone with a small one, it's horrible. With someone who is small it can just fall out. I prefer foreplay to intercourse, anyway.
JEMMA: Do you?
KATIE: Yeah, it's much better. If he pulled down his trousers and he was small, I'd tell him to go away.
JEMMA: I think it matters. If it was really small then I'd be disappointed.
KATIE: You'd tell them to pull their pants up. But you wouldn't want it too big as that would be scary. Seven inches is OK.
JEMMA: I agree.

OUTDOOR SEX
KATIE: I like the thought of being watched while having sex outside. I was caught once in the woods by the landlord of the pub I work in. He was out walking his dog.
JEMMA: What did he say?
KATIE: Nothing, he just watched. The car was rocking away when he saw me, but I didn't care. I was caught up in the moment. He told everyone in the pub what he saw. I got quite a lot of stick, but it was worth it.
JEMMA: I've had sex on a golf course and on Blackpool beach after a night out. That was good. I like sex outside in the summer when it's nice and warm.
I usually have sex when we're out on a stroll and get carried away. I've had sex in a car but that doesn't count.

FAKING IT
KATIE: My ex could tell when I faked, so he'd do things to me to make sure I didn't have to. My boyfriend once made me come and we still had our clothes on. We were hugging and stuff and I had a dry ride. I sometimes have a quick feel of my boyfriend's willy when we're in the supermarket.
JEMMA: I've hardly ever.
KATIE: You lucky thing.
JEMMA: I've only had two relationships. I don't really see the point in faking. It doesn't make my enjoyment any better.
KATIE: I usually wait for him to go to the toilet after I've faked and finish it off myself. I want to have fun, too.

SEX TOYS
KATIE: My mum found one under my bed the other day.
JEMMA: What was she doing under your bed?
KATIE: We were moving the bed head. I've just bought a new one, it's quite good.
JEMMA: I've never used anything. I've talked about it with my bloke but I think he's afraid it'll dent his confidence.
KATIE: If you don't fake it, you don't need to use one.

FAVE POSITION
JEMMA: I like it on top as you can get what you want out of sex. It's the position I get the most pleasure from. But if you do it in the same position all the time it becomes boring.
KATIE: I like it doggystyle. It really hits the spot and is more animalistic. I like it when I'm feeling randy and want fast, frantic sex. That's really good sex.

SPIT OR SWALLOW
JEMMA: I swallow.
KATIE: I wasn't expecting that, Jem!
JEMMA: Why?
KATIE: Because you look so innocent.
JEMMA: It's just easier and it's habit now. It's the way to get rid of it quickly. It tastes okay so that doesn't bother me, although I've read that if the lad smokes, it tastes worse. I'm okay as my boyfriend doesn't smoke.
KATIE: I spit. I just don't like it. I usually get him to pull out before it squirts, otherwise I bite it.
JEMMA: Bite what?
KATIE: His willy! He wouldn't do it again. I spit it in a glass or in the sink.

BUM FUN
JEMMA: No, it's just minging. I've tried it once but it was only for a couple of seconds then I told him to get out. If I tried it again I might like it next time, who knows?
KATIE: I don't like it. I tried it once and I screamed. He took me by surprise and it was a shock. I don't know if I'd try it again. My experience was pretty unpleasant.

TURN-ONS
JEMMA: I like big, strong men with toned bodies. I don't like them too muscular but they need to be in shape. I like to feel protected.
KATIE: I like someone who is good with his hands. I like to be teased and tickled. That's a sure-fire way of getting me in the mood. The guy needs to spend a while teasing and tickling me.
JEMMA: If he's turned on, then so am I.

MARIE LAMBO

By ANN COATES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

LOTS of great things come from the Czech Republic.

Good King Wenceslas, for example – who invented the relaxing hobby of looking at deep, crisp, even snow which had hitherto been ignored by most.

Another great thing to emerge from the nice half of the former Czechoslovakia is Marie Lambo.

Big-boobed Marie, 25, from Prague, boasts 38E breasts and thankfully is more than happy to show them to us.

Her English is perfect and she understood perfectly when the Sunday Sport snappa asked if she would like to "play his pink oboe".

Our photographer is now recovering well in hospital!

Welcome to the world famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice or experience of our own Agony Angels! This week Bailey has been reading your letters. Here's her advice...

Dear Bailey,

WHEN I first started going out with my girlfriend everything was great.

She's half Spanish so is quite dark-skinned with lovely eyes.

The sex was great and before long she moved in with me.

She loved giving me a blowjob every night when I got home from work and she really liked doing it doggy style.

Everything was going fine until she had to go back home to Spain for a few months recently.

When she finally came home, my plums were aching for some attention.

But when I stripped her off for action, I noticed she was a little bit more hairy than usual – she'd clearly decided to foresake her usual body grooming regime back in Spain.

She's now got a full-on moustache, her armpits are like a rug, her bikini line seems to stretch from her fanny to her neck, and the hair on her legs is so long she could plait it.

Although we were both gagging for it, I couldn't muster a hard-on looking at my latino lover – who now looks more like Chewbacca from the Star Wars films!

How can I raise the subject with her without offending her?

DW, Manchester

Bailey says...

TELL her to get a shave. If she won't, it should be a case of hair today gonna tomorrow.

SEXCONFIDENTIAL

So, tell me, Mr Ivanov... is this REALLY a spoon import/export company?
Da. Of course. Is all good and legal, yes?

Older boss takes me shag pad for romps!

Dear Bailey,

I'M 19, good-looking with long blonde hair and a great body.

But I find fellas my own age are very immature and they have no staying power in the bedroom.

I've just got a job as a filing clerk in an insurance company.

My boss is 42 and a real hunk for an older man.

I recently caught my fella shagging a so-called friend of mine and was a bit upset at work the next day.

My gaffer asked me into his office and asked me what was wrong.

I explained my situation and then he put his arm around my waist and kissed me tenderly.

Licking

I was getting really wet and very hot so I told him how much I fancied him and he said when we'd finished work that day he could take me back to a "shag" flat he has in town, if I was up for it.

I was well up-for-it – and thought it would be great to get my own back on my cheating ex and that slag of his.

So we arranged to meet later, round the corner from work, where he picked me up in his flashy BMW car and whisked me off to his passion pad.

As soon as we got through the door he dropped to his knees and started licking my fanny.

I then begged him to take me from behind – I was so wet for him I could hardly contain myself!

He was huge and screwed me senseless for ages until he finally shot his load all over my bum.

I then sucked him back to hardness and sat on it with my back to him and rode him with all the strength I had.

He's fked me virtually ever day since then and our love-making is amazing.

Now he says he's divorcing his wife, as she is a "nagging, spoiled, lazy bitch".

He wants me to move into his flat with him and stop working at the office, but I really want to keep my job.

He says he just wants me to concentrate on looking sexy for him. But I don't really want a sugar daddy.

Any advice?

SN, Leeds

Letter of the day

Bailey says...

TELL him you want to be independent.

Dear Bailey,

I HAD sex with my boyfriend and his best mate last week and I loved it!

But now I've had two cocks I want more.

I think I'd like at least four.

Should I ask my fella to arrange it?

PF, Essex

Bailey says...

YES – I hope he has enough mates for you!

Dear Bailey,

I'VE been boning my neighbour for the past six months.

She's a busty blonde in her mid 40s and I'm 26.

She was very friendly when I moved in last summer and after a couple of months of flirting she invited herself round to mine clutching a bottle of wine.

One thing led to another and I ended up doing her from behind on the couch.

The problem is that she now wants to move in with me.

What should I do?

HM, Norwich

Bailey says...

TELL her to slow down a bit.

Dear Bailey,

I'M a 23-year-old blonde and I met the man of my dreams while I was out clubbing with my pals a few weeks ago.

He's a real hunk in his late 20s with a great physique from his regular workouts at the gym.

But I found out that not only does he still live at home with his mum but he's a trainspotter!

I managed to persuade him to stay over at my place where I discovered he has a penis to match the rest of his great body.

It's a good, solid nine inches but the problem is that he's not got much idea how to make the best use of it.

I've given him a few pointers but when it comes to getting his long loco into my love shed he's a bit clumsy and arrives too soon.

Should I blow the whistle on our relationship?

WS, Middlesex

Bailey says...

WORK out a better timetable for your sex sessions.

WOMEN, being soft-headed creatures with little in the way of natural wit or common sense, often – like daft Brenda here – fall for the so-called "bad boys".

Brenda pretends to believe Mr Ivanov's lie that he is a "spoon dealer" – though she must suspect that, being Russian, he is almost certainly a criminal and probably a drug trafficker.

She may think being each-ended by rough Slavic gangsters is fun.

But dear Brenda won't be having quite so much fun when her looks fade and she is fed to the pigs by her flint-hearted paymasters.

Poor woman.

SEXY LEXI LOVES AN ALL-OVER SUNTAN

BRING on summer – so Lexi Lowe can get back to NUDE sunbathing!

The busty glamour girl hates having white bits and always insists on an all-over tan.

And she admits that the process of getting that complete browning has its perks, too.

Lexi, 26 – who boasts fabulous 34FF boobs – explained: "I definitely go for the all-over tan.

"I normally get a holiday villa where I can sunbathe in the nude.

"The sun also makes me really horny, so it's nice to have the privacy to have sex whenever I fancy it!"

And how does Lexi, from Newport, south Wales, like her sex best?

"I like it from behind," she admits. "I love a guy pounding away behind me. You get deep penetration and it makes me climax every time."

HEART-EAT KILLER GETS 18 YEARS

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MURDERER who ate his victim's heart with a knife and fork in a bizarre bid "to prove he wasn't gay" has been jailed for 18 years in South Africa.

Zimbabwean Andrew Chimboza pleaded guilty to stabbing 62-year-old Mbuyiselo Manona to death at the home of Manona's lover in Cape Town's Gugulethu township in June last year.

When officers arrived at the scene they found the 35-year-old "busy eating" Manona's heart. Chimboza had reportedly been accused of having it off with Manona's gay lover and was forced to defend himself against the younger man.

But, after overpowering him, Chimboza went a step too far.

He told Cape Town High Court: "I took a knife, slit his throat and continued to stab him.

PECKISH: Chimboza

Danger

"I was so angry that I did not remember how many times I stabbed him or where."

In a statement read out at an earlier hearing, Chimboza shed more light on the killing.

He said: "I sat upon him, stabbed him in the chest and I tore out his heart.

"I took a knife, sliced his heart and then ate it to show him that I am not a moffie (gay). After I'd finished eating it, I realised he was dead."

Psychiatrists said it wasn't possible to tell if Chimboza was a danger to other people.

Judge Ashley Binns-Ward said that, despite his relatively clean record, the brutality of the assault and absence of remorse called for a sentence of 18 years.

ANOTHER DUCK: Trott is out in the Third Test

BOYCOTT: TIME TO TROTT ON

CRICKET: ENGLAND IN THE WEST INDIES

BATTING legend Geoffrey Boycott has added his voice to those calling for England to ditch Jonathan Trott from the top of the order.

The Warwickshire man has had a nightmare since returning to the Three Lions side in the West Indies opening the batting.

He's copped for a chronic three ducks in five innings going in first — when he's spent the rest of his career batting at number three.

Trott was fired out for another three-ball zero in the Third Test against the Windies and, according to Boycs, it must be the end for him at the top of the order.

CRITIC: Boycott

He said: "Trott can't open the batting like that, if you're moving forward to pace you're in trouble.

"Trott's moving forward into it before the bowler's let it go, and then when the ball is short, you have nowhere to go, you haven't got time to get back.

"So he pokes at it with his hands and the ball pops off the splice.

"You can't play like that against high-quality fast bowling."

And Boycott is thinking ahead to the ultimate test of Australia heading to England this summer.

Attack

He can't see how Trott can sort of his technique in time to face the might of Mitchell Johnson and Mitchell Starc who are a different proposition again to the Windies attack.

He added: "The Australians will see these dismissals of Trott and they won't miss a trick."

And Boycs has called on the selectors to widen the net for potential England players.

He hit out at the habit of going back to the same players and not giving young talent a chance to play.

He said: "England don't have any imagination in selection, we don't have bad players but I think we can make our Test side even better."

There are growing calls to give Adam Lyth a chance to open the batting after a sparkling 2014 season at the head of the Yorkshire order.

He was named as player of the year as his runs helped the White Rose to run away with the county championship.

Ian Botham is one of the chorus of voices who wanted him playing in the current match — and certainly at home against the Australians.

Beefy boomed: "I don't think we need to see anything more from Jonathan Trott in the openers' position.

"He looks very fidgety at the crease, he doesn't look relaxed.

"I'm surprised they picked him in the first place. Adam Lyth must be wondering what he has to do to play and also Trott didn't open for England before, so why's he opening now? I don't quite understand their thinking.

"I cannot believe, seriously, that England think Trott is going to be opening the batting against Australia. I don't see him playing."

CALL TO ARMS FIRES FRANKIE

SQUARE UP: Gavin and Brook

FRANKIE GAVIN is fired up for world title glory after joining the Army.

'Funtime' Frankie has been written off for his IBF welterweight title challenge against Kell Brook in London on May 30.

But the Brummie is determined to finally fulfil his potential, and not be known as one of boxing's wasted talents.

He has moved into Gamecock Barracks near Nuneaton and ready for some square bashing from trainer Tom Chaney.

Gavin, 29, said: "The Army base will help me finish off my training camp."

"I've got two little boys, aged three and six, and at the Army base I'll have no distractions, no disturbed sleep and they have their own boxing gym there.

"I can train and rest and it helps with the discipline because everyone around you is disciplined.

"You don't want to be the odd one out and it's great being around them."

Ever since Gavin became the only Englishman to win a world amateur championship in 2007 there has been expectancy, but some fans have lost faith.

In the 2008 Olympics he was favourite for lightweight gold, but failed to make weight.

Last August he suffered his first professional loss, a shock points loss to Italian Leonard Bundu, and Gavin admits that it looked like his world title hopes had gone.

Gavin has won two subsequent bouts, but although he hasn't impressed is convinced his tricky southpaw style can upset Sheffield's Brook.

He added: "The money is alright, it's not great and it should be more, but if you get a world title opportunity you can't turn it down.

"Once I win the title there will be more money.

"But titles mean more to me than money and I know I will have to produce the best of my career to beat Kell.

"There's an immediate rematch clause in the contract — maybe they're not as confident as they say they are

"Kell says he feels unbeatable but they wanted that clause in there. I'm in a no-lose situation and I really fancy the job."

COMMON GOAL FOR BUZZING BUGLIONI

FRANK BUGLIONI could get a crack at the Commonwealth super-middleweight title if he defeats Lee Markham at Wembley Arena on Saturday.

The Enfield man's team are targeting at shot at Luke Blackledge's crown but knows he must impress in his WBO European championship defence against Markham.

Buglioni, 25, said: "Boxing is all about levels though and I know that I'm levels above him.

"I can outdo him in every department and better anything he brings. There's only winner in this fight and that's me, I'll stop him."

Buglioni and Markham met twice in their amateur days and both claimed a win.

OUR SPORTS BETTING GURU WILL PUT YOU ON A WINNER!

Kane can get the job done

IN election week we ought to remember there are lies, damned lies and statistics.

We are in for plenty of all three come Thursday night.

But never more so than when you look at the betting for today's big game.

If ever there was a nose-to-nose scrap between gut instinct and those horrid, cold and nasty things, er, facts, yeah, them's the fellas.

Spurs win this surely? Last home game, Harry Kane's thank you to his adoring public until we all do it again next season, Hugo Lloris in peerless form between the sticks...

And they are the bigger price.

You can get nearly 3/1 about Tottenham. The visitors are a fraction finer than evens and it's 14/5 the draw.

And as EMF once sang, "Unbelievable, what the fk?"

Then you look at the stats and if you are a Spurs fan, look away now.

Tottenham have kept just one clean sheet in their last 11 Premier League outings.

Manchester City have won seven and lost just one of the last eight Premier League meetings with Spurs.

Manuel Pellegrini has seen his side score 15 goals in their last three Premier League games against Spurs and at least four in each match.

Sergio Aguero has netted nine goals in six Premier League appearances against Spurs.

Edin Dzeko has scored six goals in as many Premier League games against Spurs, though four of them came in one game, a 5-1 win at White Hart Lane.

Samir Nasri (right) has scored four Premier League goals against Spurs, more than against any other opponent in the competition.

Spurs have taken fewer points than any other team in the head to heads between the top six teams going into this weekend (8).

City have lost their last four Premier League away games in a row.

They haven't lost five on the bounce since April 2006.

If you can bring yourself to back Spurs after reading that you need locking up for your own safety.

Well, we need locking up for our own safety.

The fat end of nearly 3/1 about the home side in a game between two fairly equally-matched teams is frankly ridiculous.

Hands up all those who think Kane will score in his last home game of the season.

At any time in the 90 minutes.

Okay hands up in the air then you impossible lot. You can have a slice of shaved ham short of 2/1 off that happening with bwin.

Wow, is it just me or is that like finding it in the street?

Given what we have just said, and you feel Spurs will win this, half-time full-time betting is intriguing.

The hosts are a mighty 6/1 to be leading at the half-time peep-peep and to hang on to a victory.

Tiny

For a bit of fun, and to the tiniest of stakes, Harry Kane to be the final goalscorer is on offer at 6/1.

He is sure to go out on a last hurrah.

We might have just talked ourselves into a real bank-breaking weekend but here goes.

BETS: Spurs to win (14/5); Kane to score any time (19/20); Kane last scorer (6/1).

MAKE MONEY ON SOME AMERICAN NONSENSE

CHELSEA v Palace is a done deal, right?

You can't waste money betting on long odds-on shots cos sometimes they lose. But you seriously can't wager against the hosts at the Bridge.

So an off-the-wall one for ya as our second bet. Utterly beautiful USA creature called Courtney Smith is absolutely adamant Kentucky, she is biased, it is her home State, so that tempers my confidence, will win the American College Basketball scene for 2015/2016.

But this is a weird market.

North Carolina lead the field at 9/1, Kentucky are 10s and so are Virginia. You have Maryland and Villanova at 12/1. Three teams weigh in at 15/1, Kansas, Iowa State and Arizona.

STEELER: A big bloke from Pittsburgh

After that it is 20/1 each of two and 40/1, at least, the field. That makes it a skewed betting market given that only first five in the betting, barring miracles, have half a chance.

For once, it is skewed in our favour. Hands in wallets time, lads.

The other Yank market coming up is the NFL season. Pittsburgh have a backbone of iron and I wouldn't put anyone off backing them.

You can get 28/1 about them winning this season.

BETS: Kentucky to win US College Basketball season (10/1); Steelers for the NFL Super Bowl (28/1).

Ilewin Allot for Wallis

LAST week I put up four tips in the Sunday Sport we had one non-runner and three winners all at Henlow.

They say if it's not broke don't fix it so I'm sticking to Henlow tonight and here are my best bets.

What a name 'Ilewin Allot' is and this son of Kinloch Brae is certainly living up to that name and indeed is winning a lot.

I tipped him last week and he destroyed the field to score by over 6L. Tonight looks trickier but I still fancy this Mark Wallis trained star to be the one collecting the trophy.

He possesses brilliant early-pace and that is a formidable weapon around Henlow especially over the 428m races.

Sticking with Mark Wallis I was very impressed with Airforce Venus last time and although she is stepping up to the 550m I think she can cut out the running which should make her hard to beat. She posted a 3.69 split over the 460m that is not hanging about. I don't foresee these rivals being capable of matching her to the bend and is a confident selection.

Mays King is top-class at his best, a recent trial of 29.21 at Wimbledon hardly inspires confidence but he suffered a bumpy ride.

The time before here over course and distance he was fantastic and I'm taking him to follow that up here.

Midway Nick was another I tipped last week and he duly obliged. He's chasing a hat-trick tonight but must overcome a very tricky draw.

His wins previously came from trap-two and last week from trap-one, out in the orange jacket I've stuck with him but if he was wearing the red jacket he'd have been the NAP.

NAP - T3 Ilewin Allot 20.00
NB - T3 Airfoce Venus 20.30
TREBLE - T1 Mays King 21.00
YANKEE - T5 Midway Nick 21.15

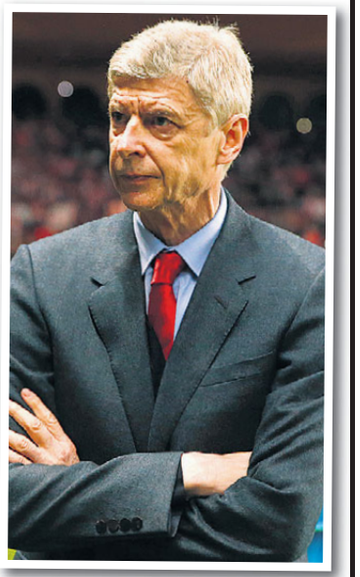
Jealous, jealous Arsene



APPARENTLY Chelsea are boring. One of the nasty side effects of the Premier League since it was spawned 23 years ago is the playground bitchiness that its managers resort to.

Too few managers these days seem to be able to conjure up the post-match philosophy of Shankly, Nicholson or Clough or the eloquent charm of Bobby Robson.

Instead we have the highly educated Arsene Wenger coming up with the less-than-imaginative 'boring' while his own fans' "1-0 to the Arsenal" which mocked a similar jibe aimed at The Gunners during their heyday still haunts the old Highbury side streets.

Many will say that Clough wouldn't have allowed his teams to park the bus but anyone who watched Forest will know that they knew how to grind out a result, based on years of European football experience.

The maestros of the 1-0 – the all-conquering Italian sides of the 90s – were actually a joy to watch, for their own fans that is.

And that's the point.

Chelsea fans aren't bored, they're celebrating another title and as Mourinho quite rightly says, it's going 10 years without one that really is boring.

So Arsene, are you really bored? Or just jealous?

PEARSON IS A CLASS ACT

SOMEONE who certainly hasn't been boring this season is Nigel Pearson. Following on from his 'Ostrich' comments and apology, he was grilled by BBC man Pat Murphy and delivered another stella performance.

Opta should start doing stats for passive aggression.

The thing about Pearson is these incidents are described as 'rants' and 'outbursts' when he is actually calmness personified, he sits there like a Bond villain and the atmosphere is about as comfortable as a pair of coconut hair underpants.

Could it be that the journalists don't like coming up against an intelligent manager who knows how to keep calm – at the very same time he looks ready to rip out your head off?

I joked earlier this season that nice guys might come last but Pearson intends to buck that trend, well it looks like he'll have the last laugh this season if he keeps Leicester in the Premier League which, after all, is his job, not politely placating irate fans or brown-nosing jumped-up journos.

SUMMER LOVIN': Van Gaal

LOUIS: WE'LL WIN LEAGUE THIS SUMMER

By JOE BAXTER

LOUIS Van Gaal says he'll win next season's Premier League title before a ball is kicked.

The Manchester United boss reckons the most important work to see the pennant flying over Old Trafford again will be done this summer.

And he blames a chaotic close season after he took over from David Moyes for some of his side's woes last time around.

A long summer tour has been blamed in some quarters for United making a slow start to the current campaign.

It has taken time for LVG to turn things around at Old Trafford but the club's form has taken a sharp turn for the better since Christmas.

The Dutchman said: "Our preparation for next season will be better.

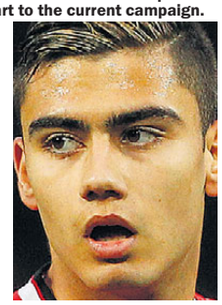
"Manchester United have adapted to the better preparation because we will only have two bases in the United States and won't be flying as much.

"We shall be going via the bus. We shall have a better preparation for this tour."

That hints that he has won the fight with the top brass at Old Trafford who think in terms of dollars rather than preparing for a new season.

That meant a lot of travelling last time and it's true that United looked sluggish in the early clashes when the season kicked off.

And Van Gaal says his team is more than capable of overhauling Chelsea and winning the league next season. They look set for a third placed finish and that will bring Champions League football and the star signings that attracts.



NEW DEAL: Pereira

Van Gaal says he will be two years ahead of schedule in winning the Premier League next season and that the powers-that-be at Old Trafford gave him three years to bring the good times when he took over.

"The board of Manchester United have given me three years for that objective.

"This year we have not challenged but we are very close to second and third.

"Chelsea are far above but next year is different.

"Next year it will be a different squad but so will all the other teams like Chelsea, Liverpool Arsenal and City and all the others will be different.

"But you have seen our matches against the top clubs and there is not a big gap."

Meanwhile, 19-year-old Brazilian international Andreas Pereira has signed a new three-year deal at the club.

WITH HIS SPORTING ODDS AND ENDS

IT HAZ TO BE EDEN: Hazard is 17/4 to open the scoring

Both teams can score at Bridge

CHELSEA will be crowned Premier League champs if they beat Crystal Palace at Stamford Bridge today.

It is hard to see past a home win although Eagles' boss Alan Pardew has won four of his last six matches as an opposition coach against the Blues.

We won't get rich backing Chelsea at 4/11 although they are a shade of odds on at 39/40 to lead at both half-time and full-time.

Eden Hazard has been the outstanding player in the PL this term and is 17/4 to score the opener and 6/5 to find the back of the net at any time.

The Belgian international looked tired at the Emirates last weekend but it would be fitting if he made the difference against a Palace side who are good on the break and the tip must be for Chelsea to win and both sides to score at a big-value 23/10.

Manchester City are likely to be former Champions by the time they take the field against Spurs at White Hart Lane and they have made another limp defence of their title this term and Manuel Pellegrini is unlikely to be in charge at the Etihad on the opening day of the 2015/16 campaign.

BetVictor have been betting on the next City manager for some time, irrespective of the timescale, and the latest odds are:

Jurgen Klopp	6/4
(Klopp clipped from 2/1)
Carlo Ancelotti	4/1
Patrick Vieira	4/1
Rafa Benitez	5/1
Pep Guardiola	6/1

23/10 LOOKS HUGE FOR GOALS

Sergio Aguero (20) leads Harry Kane by one goal in the battle to finish the season as top PL goalscorer and we have a market asking who will score more goals this afternoon at the Lane.

Kane	7/2
Tie	8/11
Aguero	9/4

There were four penalties awarded in the reverse fixture back in October and we bet 9/4 there is a spot-kick awarded this afternoon.

City have lost their last four away games in the league and they will want to avoid a fifth and can manage to leave London with something.

The Manchester money men at 11/10 must be the 20s Bar those named above.

HAVE A BALL AT NEWMARKET

Today's Qipco 1,000 Guineas at Newmarket is competitive but hardly a vintage renewal of the fillies' classic with just the one previous Group One winner in the field, Tiggy Wiggy, and she is a 20/1 shot.

There is plenty of rain forecast which might inconvenience my original selection Jellicle Ball but as long as the round is no worse than good she can run into a place at 11/1 with BetVictor.

Middlesbrough 0
Brighton HA 0

BORO finished the season on a low point as they settled for fourth in the table.

Brighton looked the more lively of the pair in the early stages and might have taken the lead through Gordon Greer and Beram Keyal who both had good chances.

Lee Tomlin gave the home fans something to shout about with a sharp shot.

The biggest chance of the match fell to home defender Fernando Amorebieta who could have set up a tap-in for Kike but he made a hash of his cross.

Blackpool P
Huddersfield P

BLACKPOOL fans invaded the pitch three minutes into the second half, leaving referee Mick Russell little choice but to take the players off.

The Tangerines fans were protesting against Karl Oyston and sat down in the centre circle, meaning there was no hoping of getting the match going again.

A flare was also lit as the numbers on the pitch grew from dozens to hundreds.

The game was 0-0 at the time and Blackpool will play in League One next season having long since been relegated.

Bolton Wand 0
Birmingham 1

BIRMINGHAM continued their excellent form under Gary Rowett by beating Bolton on their own patch.

Blues have marched up the table since bringing in their new boss before Christmas and secured an unlikely top 10 finish with this win.

The three points were secured by a Robert Tesche strike in the shadow of half-time.

He was the first to the ball after a goalmouth scramble when the Wanderers defence failed to clear their lines.

He fired an unstoppable shot past Bogdan from close range and Bolton had no answer.

Brentford 3
Wigan Athletic 0

BRENTFORD bagged an unlikely play-off place in style with a comfortable win over already relegated Wigan.

Mark Warburton's side missed a host of chances before Alex Pritchard scored with a deflected 25-yard free-kick.

Spanish midfielder Jota made it two after some good skill opened up the Wigan defence for him to shoot into the net.

Andre Gray wrapped up the scoring with Jota again in the thick of the action, setting him up to fire past Latics keeper Lee Nicholls.

JOY OF SIXTH FOR TOWN

Blackburn 2
Ipswich Town 3

IPSWICH pipped Wolves to a play-off spot despite coming out second best at Ewood.

Tractor Boys boss Mick McCarthy heaved a huge sigh of relief as Derby's calamity saw his side make it into the top six.

Wolves needed to fire in four more goals to deny his side but it wasn't to be for the midlanders. But Town will have to play a lot better than this if they are to make it into the Premier League.

They started well as Daryl Murphy got on the end of a Jay Tabb corner to open the scoring on two minutes. That woke Rovers from their daze and they could have scored three before Jordan Rhodes levelled the scores on 36 minutes.

It was all Blackburn and they made it 2-1 when Craig Conway reacted quickest to a Rudi Gestede flick-on to send Rovers into the break with a lead.

Gestede added another after a cock-up by the Ipswich defence inside their own penalty area.

A miss-hit clearance fell to his feet and he did the rest.

Ipswich showed good heart though and kept coming at Rovers.

They grabbed a goal back when Murphy converted a penalty won when Teddy Bishop was tripped by Tommy Spurr.

What a Wally!

DISASTER AS McCLAREN MISSES PLAY-OFFS

Derby County 0
Reading 3

STEVE McCLAREN lived up to his old nickname of the Wally — but this time he didn't have a brolly as Derby crashed out of the play-off places on the final day.

The Rams would have only needed a draw as other results were fairly kind.

But they couldn't even manage that as the Royals gave them a right stuffing in front of their own fans.

It looks like McClaren is heading for the Newcastle hot-seat so this became his last game at Derby.

The calamity started from almost the first whistle as Kwesi Appiah smashed the visitors into the lead when he showed a clean pair of heels to the Derby defence.

He calmly slotted home to cause an air of panic among the home faithful. The mood wasn't helped much when Darren Bent managed to miss a penalty on the stroke of half-time.

The former Aston Villa man struck it well enough into the corner but Adam Federici — of cup semi-final howler fame — was equal to the task and pushed it around the post.

McClaren was clearly narked as his troops — or his watch had stopped — as he sent them out for the second half a good five minutes before the buzzer went.

He sent on Chris Martin at the interval, hoping his number one goalscorer could get his team back into the game.

But it didn't do a lot of good and it wasn't exactly like the alamo for the Royals' defence.

Michael Hector reacted quickest inside the box to get on the end of a goalmouth scrambe to double the lead with 18 minutes left to play.

The home crowd used that as an excuse to go ballistic at their players, whose form has dipped markedly since they topped the table three times earlier this season.

After Darren Bent blew another good chance when sent clear on the Reading goal, the visitors put McClaren and Co out of their misery.

Lee Grant took out his frustration on Jem Karacan but, sadly for the Rams, the foul was inside the box and Gareth McCleary calmed converted the penalty.

Charlton Ath 0
Bournemouth 3

BOURNEMOUTH finished the season on a real high with a victory that handed them an unexpected Championship title win.

The Cherries knew they were marooned in second if Watford won at home to Sheffield Wednesday — but it ended up all square at Vicarage Road so this 3-0 win was enough.

There was never a moment's doubt as the visitors showed the class that has fired them into the Premier League.

A double from Matt Ritchie backed up by a Harry Arter goal meant they ended an amazing season on yet another high point. Things were made even more exciting as this game finished a few minutes after the Watford game, meaning the Bournemouth players could celebrate on the pitch and with the fans.

The already massive call for Cherries boss Eddie Howe to be manager of the year will turn even more deafening after steering his side to the top of the table. He can now turn his attention to next season in the Premier League.

Leeds United 0
Rotherham 0

ROTHERHAM boss Steve Evans kept to us promise of turning up at Elland Road in a Sombrero and T-shirt.

He made the vow earlier in the season if he kept the Millers in the Championship — which he duly has done.

He changed into a more sombre suit for the game as there was a minute's silence for all Leeds fans who have passed away this season.

On the pitch, there was very little to write home about as the season fizzled out for both sides with a goalless draw.

Norwich City 4
Fulham 2

NORWICH were already safely in the play-offs and the home crowd were treated to six goals.

It took 35 minutes for City to strike first when Bradley Johnson scored after good work by Wes Hoolahan.

Nathan Redmond made it 2-0 just before half-time with a nice strike from outside the box.

With 10 minutes left, Graham Dorrans added another before Fulham hit back straight away via Matt Smith.

Johnson then smashed in another screamer from 30 yards out before he ended the day with an owl goal in the dying seconds.

Nottm Forest 1
Cardiff City 2

CARDIFF came out on top despite ending the game a man down.

The Bluebirds drew first blook on 14 minutes as Joe Ralls fired past Karl Darlow who had no answer in the Forest net.

One became two when Cardiff reduced the home defence to statues as Eoin Doyle headed home without any kind of challenge to put him off.

That drew a few boos from the home crowd that were silenced when City keeper David Marshall saw red for violent conduct.

Dexter Blackstock scored after that but the game had gone.

Watford 1
Sheffield Wed 1

THE Hornets were stung by the Owls who stopped them from winning the Championship title.

Watford went into the final day needed to match Bournemouth's result to end top of the table.

But while the Cherries won at Charlton, across London the home side were held to a draw.

Matej Vydra put Watford into the lead midway through the first half and it looked as though that would do it.

But Wednesday kept going right until the end and the equaliser finally came in the 91st minute through Atdhe Nuhiu.

Wolves 4
Millwall 2

WOLVES finished in the dreaded seventh position, missing the play-offs to Ipswich on goal difference.

Wolves knew that had to pile up a cricket score and did the business up front with a double from Nouha Dicko backed up by one each from Bakary Sako and Ethan Ebanks-Landell.

The problem was that relegated Millwall managed to hit the target twice themselves, through Aiden O'Brien and Jamie Philpott.

In the end, they were four goals short of overhauling the Tractor Boys.

PREMIER LEAGUE: LIVERPOOL 2 QPR 1

HEADS UP: Gerrard beats Barton,to power in Liverpool's winner

Spot of bother can't stop Stevie

GERRARD BOUNCES BACK TO KOP GOAL

STEVEN GERRARD showed he can still cut it at the top level — minutes after looking way past it!

The Reds skipper brought groans from the Kop when missing a second-half penalty — only to score the winner with his next touch.

It was a fitting end for Gerrard who wasn't at his best in his penultimate Anfield game.

It could have been a costly miss as QPR had made the game all square through Leroy Fer after Phillip Coutinho had put the home side a goal up.

After missing the pen, Gerrard managed to get his head on a corner from the Brazilian and powered the ball past Robert Green to keep the Reds' distant Champions League dreams alive.

By LEE COLLIER

And Gerrard was pretty sheepish afterwards.

He said: "I wanted to score the penalty but changed my mind in the run up which is silly — you can't ever change your mind when taking a penalty.

"Missing that was my fault so I was made up to get the winner a few minutes later.

"It is always nice to score any goal but it's a lot more important that the team got three points."

Now his thoughts are turning to his final league game at Anfield after a career that goes all the way back to the days when Gerard Houllier was Liverpool boss. That comes when Crystal Palace are the club's opponents on the final day of the season.

Gerrard added: "It was a great ovation when I came off.

"I want to thank the fans for their amazing support, they have always given me that.

"I am really looking forward to my last game in a couple of weeks even though it's going to be very emotional for me and my family."

Liverpool were a little lucky to take the lead as Rangers had looked the most likely in the opening clashes.

Rickie Lambert, making a rare start for the Reds after a poor season, played in Coutinho and he fired one of his trademark worldies past a despairing Green.

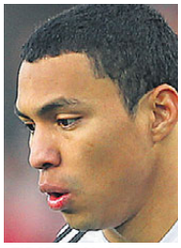
Then came a couple of clear chances to put Liverpool out of sight but Adam Lallana and Raheem Sterling fluffed their lines badly when it looked easier to score than miss.

Those cock-ups came back to bite the home side when Fer met Joey Barton's corner with a perfectly timed volley — another high-class finish.

Then came the penalty, awarded when Nedum Onuoha grabbed Martin Skrtel's shirt inside the penalty area.

Gerrard's penalty was poor and Green had no trouble palming it away.

Onuoha then saw red for charging into Jordon Ibe and Gerrard took full advantage of the extra space when heading in an emotional winner.



FIRST GOAL: Montero

It was Mont to be for Swans

Swansea City	2
Stoke City	0

SWANSEA boss Garry Monk hailed his team for getting a grip of the game after the break.

It was pretty sterile stuff for the first 45 minutes and the game only really came to life in the final 15 minutes.

That was when Jefferson Montero scored his first goal in a Swansea shirt.

He stooped low to head in a well-directed cross by Jonjo Shelvey, who was a major presence in the Swans' midfield.

Montero was at the centre of the incident that saw Stoke's Marc Wilson see red for a second yellow card a few minutes later.

He hacked him down and there were few protests as he left the field.

The scoring was completed by Ki Sung-Yeung to give Swansea a deserved victory.

Monk was pleased by the way his players increased the tempo after the break — after being accused in some quarters of being on the beach already when losing at Leicester a couple of games ago.

Control

The Swansea boss said: "We really stepped it up. We spoke to the boys at half-time because we always felt as though we were in control of the game but we were going at 60-70 percent.

"We were much, much better after that with a higher tempo which was the key — getting the passing going better."

Monk says he wasn't concerned that his team would get the win despite the goal coming late in the game.

He added: "It was coming. Gylfi had missed a couple of good chances.

"The goals were both excellent. Jefferson doesn't score a header every day so he's happy with that and we capped it off with a good second goal.

"It was an excellent all-round team performance, especially in the second half."

For Stoke, skipper Ryan Shawcross was honest. He said: "We stopped doing the basics in the second half.

"When you do that at this level you get punished so we got what we deserved."

PREMIER LEAGUE: WEST HAM 1 BURNLEY 0

NOBLE LEAVES MARK ON CLARETS

Burnley marooned

NOBLE MISSION: Mark celebrates his goal against Burnley

BURNLEY need a miracle to stay in the Premier League after a Mark Noble penalty condemned them to defeat at Upton Park.

By PETER WILLETTS

The Lancashire Clarets sit eight points from safety at the foot of the table — with only three games left to play.

Those games are all winnable — against Aston Villa, Stoke and Hull — but Sean Dyche's men also need Leicester and the Tigers to lose all of their remaining fixtures.

So this effectively dumped them back into the Championship and they went out with something of a whimper.

On paper, this was a good chance for Burnley to end a run of three defeats.

Clumsy

The Hammers are grateful they did so well before Christmas because their recent form has been awful with just one win in their past 13 outings.

But the home side took control of the game early on and never really let Burnley have a sniff.

The visitors weren't helped by the incident in the 23rd minute that led to the goal and a red card for their defender Michael Duff.

He made a clumsy tackle inside the box on West Ham attacker Cheikhou Kouyate and Noble made no mistake from 12 yards. The lead should have been doubled before the break only for Tom Heaton in the Burnley goal to make an excellent save from Enner Valencia.

Stuart Downing laid the chance on a plate for the highly-rated striker but the Clarets keeper was equal to the task.

Then Adrian came to his side's rescue at the other end when Ashley Barnes had a free header inside the box — but the keeper pulled off an impressive save.

It was all West Ham again as the second half burst into life but Burnley almost equalised against the run of play on 51 minutes.

Danny Ings showed why several big clubs are interested this summer by bursting into the West Ham box — only to hit his shot into the side-netting.

Then Heaton almost blotted his copybook at the other end when he couldn't hold a powder-puff shot by Kevin Nolan that Valencia almost scrambled over the line.

The game ended with the Hammers in complete control and substitute Carlton Cole almost scored with his first involvement.

He was served up a perfect cross by an impressive Downing and rose above the defence only to power his header over the bar.

Cole had another effort from a long-range shot but it was straight at a grateful Heaton.

TOP MAN: Delph

Delph 'best in Premier' says Tim

Aston Villa	3
Everton	2

TIM SHERWOOD says Fabian Delph is the best midfielder in the Premier League.

The Villa boss made the big claim after watching his side take a massive step to safety by beating Everton at Villa Park.

Sherwood's side raced into a 2-0 lead thanks to a Christian Benteke double before the Toffees pulled one back through a Romelu Lukaku penalty.

The advantage was restored to two goals thanks to Everton transfer target Tom Cleverley before a late strike from Phil Jagielka made it an anxious few minutes for the home side.

But Sherwood was quick to praise Delph's effort since he took over at the club.

He said: "I'm not going over the top but there isn't a better midfield player in the country at the moment than Fabian.

"He's got everything. He breaks the game up, moves the ball, he's got trickery.

"He can run with the ball — there is everything to his game and he can score goals too."

And Sherwood praised the effort of his entire team who look to have secured their Premier League future.

Gameplan

He added: "It was a good performance under a lot of pressure.

"There's a lot of pressure at this stage of the season but the boys are coping with it really well.

"They are sticking to the gameplan and we managed to nick a few goals as well."

Villa stuck to the pressing and passing game that got them past Liverpool in the FA Cup semi-final.

It has been the key to success since Sherwood joined the club.

He added: "My players are comfortable in midfield so they should pass the ball about to eachother.

"They keep passing, feed it to the big man Christian Benteke and he will score.

"Benteke has been crucial for us. He gets in the right place at the right time.

"I knew he would be a real handful for their centre-backs."

GOMEZ SO COOL FOR CATS

Sunderland	2
Southampton	1

JORDI GOMEZ scored twice from the penalty spot as the Black Cats grabbed a crucial three points.

Southampton were probably the best side but they paid a high price and had James Ward-Prowse sent off.

The Saints got on the scoresheet themselves thanks to Sadio Mane but they were always struggling to get back on level terms.

Dick Advocaat made two changes to his line-up, with Sebastian Larsson and Danny Graham brought back into the fold with Will Buckley and Jack Rodwell dropping to the bench.

Ronald Koeman also chose to shuffle the pack, with Morgan Schneiderlin ruled out for the rest of the season.

In came Shane Long, while Victor Wanyama got the nod in place of Steven Davis.

The first goal came after good work by the home side led to Jose Fonte making a clumsy tackle on Danny Graham inside the penalty area.

Gomez was coolness itself as he scored from the spot, although Saints keeper Kelvin Davis guessed right and nearly kept the shot out.

The Saints came marching straight back though when home keeper Costel Pantilimon and his defence got themselves into a middle that gave Mane the freedom of Sunderland inside the penalty area.

He could have walked the ball over the line unchallenged and make no mistake.

Saints were lucky to go in all square at the break after the Black Cats piled forward in the closing minutes but couldn't get through. Southampton should have taken the lead almost from the restart when Filip Djuricic was handed a good chance after a defensive blunder by Sebastian Coates. He should have done a lot better than to fire his shot well wide.

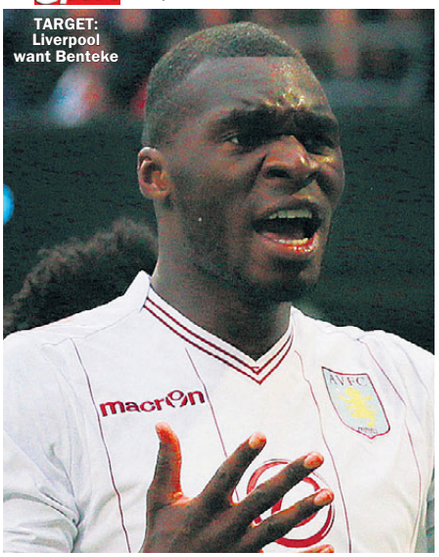
Then came the crucial penalty that decided the match.

Jermain Defoe was hacked down by Ward-Prowse inside the box for another spot kick — the away defenders didn't have too many complaints.

That was until the ref pulled out the red card for the Saints man for what looked a fairly harsh dismissal.

With the lead secured, Sunderland were more defensive in the closing stages as they kept hold of three precious points.

RED CARD: Ward-Prowse



TARGET: Liverpool want Benteke

BELGIANS TO LEAD KOP LINE

By MIKE FRANCIS

IT used to be a challenge to name more than one famous person from Belgium — even if you include fictional detective Poirot.

But it won't be a problem for Liverpool fans next season as Brendan Rodgers is lining up an all-Belgian attack.

With Daniel Sturridge struggling with an ever-growing injury list, the Kop boss knows he has to strengthen his options at the top of this team.

The Reds have already secured the signature of Divock Origi, the 20-year-old centre forward who made a massive impact when breaking into the national team as a teenager.

RISING STAR: Origi

He was hot property in the French league for Lille and signed for the Kop last year and loaned straight back to France where he has been a regular starter in Ligue 1.

Now Brendan Rodgers is on the verge of adding another Belgian forward to his squad in Christian Benteke from Aston Villa.

The big striker has been a revelation since Tim Sherwood arrived at Villa Park but the Brummie boss knows he faces a massive fight to keep his main asset.

Struggle

Liverpool are facing up to the reality of losing Raheem Sterling in the summer, with Manchester City the most likely destination for the winger.

He has turned down a £100,000 per week deal at Anfield and City will go as far as doubling that figure to bring him 30 miles up the East Lancs Road.

So Rodgers knows his side will face an even bigger struggle to score goals next season.

They have managed just 47 league goals this season, compared to the amazing 101 they smashed in last season thanks to a fully fit Sturridge being helped by a certain Luis Suarez.

So a move for Benteke would go a long way to calming Kop fans' fears that their team is going backwards fast with no Champions League next season.

He has scored 10 times in 25 outings this season, a good record for anyone but excellent for a player in a team that went months without scoring a goal.

But Sherwood is doing his best to ramp up any fee, with £30million expected to be the figure where the Villans will consider doing business.

He said: "It would have to be a lot of money for anyone to take him from us.

"He'd be too expensive for a great deal of clubs in the Premier League to afford."

There is even some talk on Merseyside that the Reds will try to prise away another Belgian — Romelu Lukaku — from deadly rivals Everton.

While the player is thought to be keen on the idea, the Toffees are unlikely to let the deal happen knowing it will cause uproar among the faithful.

IT'S TOUGH AT THE BOTTOM: DOON

Relegation looms as fans fume at Ashley

By MIKE MURRAY

NEWCASTLE fans turned their fury on owner Mike Ashley as the Toon slumped to an eighth Premier League defeat on the bounce.

Leicester's 3-0 win leaves United in all sorts of trouble as their worst run since 1977 threatens to dump them in the Championship.

But it wasn't just the players or lame duck boss John Carver that came in for stick — that was also aimed at Ashley. The travelling Toon Army held up banners demanding he leaves the club.

That said, at least one of the banners brandished in the away end accused some of those in black and white of not putting in a full effort.

It was just as farcical on the pitch as Newcastle ended the game with just nine men after defenders Mike Williamson and Daryl Janmaat were ordered off.

And in a bizarre twist, Carver says Williamson DELIBERATELY got himself sent off!

He said of the dismissal: "I thought he'd done that on purpose — it looks like he did.

"The ball was off the pitch — he had no need to make the challenge. He will miss two games. Is it an easy way out?"

From the opening minute, Leicester took complete control. In-form striker Leonardo Ulloa gave the Foxes the lead almost from the kick-off and repeated the feat after the break.

Wes Morgan got the other as Leicester kept their charge up the table going strong.

Embarrassing

They have now won five of their past six games and the defeat came in a hard-fought battle with champions elect Chelsea so is hardly a disgrace.

As for Newcastle, they now have three games to save themselves from another embarrassing relegation.

All of those matches are winnable — at home to West Brom, away to QPR and at home against West Ham on the final day.

But Leicester boss Nigel Pearson has fewer worries.

He said: "From the kick-off we didn't allow Newcastle to feel their way in to the game. To get two goals in a short amount of time helped.

"With a couple of months to go our season was in danger of not happening as we'd like. But we've kept our destiny in our hands. Goal difference will be important — days like today help."

CHALLENGE: Bentaleb

Spurs fired up to win it for the fans

Tottenham v Manchester City

Today, 4pm, live on Sky Sports 1

THERE is little doubt Spurs are up for a big performance with the visit of Manchester City to White Hart Lane.

Nabil Bentaleb says the players "want to give something back to the fans".

He said: "The lads were despondent after losing 1-0 at Villa last time out at the Lane on April 11 but we have responded with a win at Newcastle and a draw at Southampton."

Now City arrive at the Lane having beaten Chelsea, Arsenal and drawn against United on home soil.

It's a challenge Bentaleb relishes.

"We want to give something back to the fans and we have the chance to do that against City," said the midfielder who has been in fine form. "We owe it to them, they've supported us brilliantly all season.

"It's a tough game but we know what we're capable of, especially with the fans right behind us and pushing us forward. We all believe."

Fight

Bentaleb hailed a "special spirit" in the Hotspur ranks.

He added: "We all get on well and we have this lovely training centre where we can all stay together after training and talk. We all get on and you can see how we fight for each other. We all take responsibility."

Spurs find of the season has been Harry Kane who has performed spectacularly well at times.

All Spurs fans know what Kane has achieved on the pitch, but to reel it off still makes impressive reading — 30 goals in all competitions and 20 in the Premier League and a goal 79 seconds into his full England debut at Wembley!

Somebody pinch him, the poor bugger must be dreaming all that.

Kane collected the PFA young player of the year last and it plainly meant a lot.

STAYING: Toure

He said: "It feels amazing. It's an honour. It's a special moment and something I won't forget."

Meanwhile, Yaya Toure will start next season in a City shirt.

Despite all the speculation City insiders say Toure will not be allowed to leave easily or on the cheap.

And it appears increasingly likely that the Blues midfielder will still be at the club when it all kicks off again next season.

That will elicit cheers from some fans, who recognise the huge contribution he has made to the triumphs of the last four years.

And it will bring boos from less patient supporters, who feel his career has run its course with City.

Inter Milan are said to have made Toure their major summer target, but are not prepared to go over £15m to land the 31-year-old.

TOP DROGS CECH OUT!

LEGENDS: Drogba and Cech with one of the many trophies they have won at Stamford Bridge

TWO of Chelsea's most loyal and outstanding servants will have their last hurrah at Stamford Bridge today.

The game against Crystal Palace should provide one last showpiece Petr Cech and Didier Drogba truly deserve.

Chelsea are one victory from claiming their first Premier League trophy since 2010. Palace will relish the role of party poopers — it's what boss Alan Pardew does best — but few expect them to succeed at the Bridge.

Contest

It remains to be seen if veterans of Chelsea's three recent title wins Cech and Drogba will have a role to play from the start — as they did at Leicester in midweek.

Yet few could begrudge them the opportunity to make one final contribution in a contest that counts.

For different reasons, their Chelsea careers are surely coming to an end.

Cech's dart for pastures new is inevitable. The 32-year-old goalkeeper is too good and too young to be second choice to anyone and, with a heavy heart, will leave in the summer after 11 years of stellar service.

By TREVOR CLEMENTS

In contrast, at the age of 37, Drogba would love to carry on at the club he loves most. Yet in his case, it is surely in Chelsea's best interests for the striker to move on.

Both were in danger of seeing things finish, on a personal footing, with a whimper.

Cech's last Premier League appearance had been over two months ago. Filling in for first choice Thibaut Courtois has become a rarity.

He was being earmarked to play in the matches after the championship was secured but that is no way for such a fierce competitor, who has claimed 12 honours with Chelsea, to bow out.

But thanks to a hip injury sustained by Courtois at Arsenal, Cech featured in a game that mattered.

Four minutes before the break, the Czech international gave a timely reminder of his abilities, stretching with one hand to somehow tip Paul Konchesky's effort on to the post. It was the kind of save that will surely convince his many suitors, including Paris St Germain, Inter Milan, Arsenal and Liverpool, to reach for the chequebook.

There was little he could do to prevent Marc Albrighton from firing Leicester into a surprise lead just before half-time and then it was up to Chelsea's other ageing part-timer to take centre stage.

For 45 minutes, Drogba showed why his second spell with the Blues should be kept to just one year.

He left after scoring the decisive penalty to win them the Champions League in 2012 but resumed his love affair last summer when manager Jose Mourinho came calling.

Drogba's primary role has been to provide experience and leadership in the dressing room. Persistent injuries to Diego Costa and Loic Remy, though, means he has still made 38 appearances this term, most of which have been from the bench.

Understandably, the powers that made him such a force to be reckoned with at Stamford Bridge during his first spell are on the wane.

However, in the first half at King Power Stadium it looked like his game had reached an all-time low.

To be fair, the whole team were under-performing.

But no one had a bigger transformation after the break than the Ivorian.

Within three minutes he had drawn Chelsea level with a fine finish.

Bullying

The pumped celebration that followed was not quite at the levels of his greatest night in Munich but it was not far off.

Suddenly he was turning back the clock, bullying opposition defenders, and could have had a hat-trick.

As it turned out, it was the third great old campaigner, captain John Terry, to remind us he's not ready for the knacker's yard just yet.
